DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-20 and 36-49 are pending. Claims 21-35 have been cancelled.
2. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on August 1, 2006 has been entered.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-14, 19, 20, and 36-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated (Reference B7, cited by Applicants).

The instantly claimed compound is disclosed by Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated. At page 6, paragraph [0014], and page 7, paragraph [0016], see the chemical compound of formula I. The difference between the prior art compound and the instantly claimed compound is the X substituent (-OH versus -Oalkyl).

Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated teaches a class of isoquinoline compounds, which are useful as inhibitors of caspases. The –OH radical of the prior compound is equivalent to the claimed X which represents –OR¹ and R¹ represents C₁₋₆ straight chain alkyl.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to replace the hydrogen substituent of the prior art for an alkyl substituent of the instantly claimed compound in these classes of isoquinoline compounds. The modification of one radical for another does not modify the pharmacological behavior of the compounds. As such, the expectation of similar pharmaceutical properties is retained.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 10-13 and 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

At claims 10-13 and 15-18, the claim dependency is incorrect. Correction is appreciated.

7. The Information Disclosure Statement filed August 1, 2006 has been considered.
